Ai, Paul and Kenji are students at the same high school in Japan. Paul is a student from the United States of America (U.S.A). Kenji studied at a high school in the U.S.A last year.

Ai: Hi Paul, you are going to go back to the U.S.A next month, right?

Paul: Yes, it has been almost a year in Japan. (1)

Kenji: Yes. Time passes quickly.

Ai: How was your life in Japan?

Paul: I liked living in Japan very much, but it was difficult when I came to Japan a year ago.

Kenji: (2) I know what Paul means. Living in a foreign country is not easy.

Ai: Really? I thought that you were always having fun.

Kenji: Of course, I had a lot of fun, but there were some challenges. First of all, I had a language *barrier. To speak English every day was harder than I imagined, especially when I did not know how to say something. The biggest problem was *catching up with classes at school.

Paul: (3) It was the same for me. I could not speak Japanese well, so it was hard for me to do anything at first.

Ai: Kenji, (4) ?

Kenji: With help from my friends, I could catch up with classes. My friends showed me their notebooks and also taught me important points before the tests.

Ai: You were lucky to have good friends!

Kenji: Yes, I was. Without their help, I could not pass the tests. I learned the importance of friends.

Paul: (5) I quite agree with you. At first, I had only a few friends in Japan. After I made more friends at school, I enjoyed my life more.

Ai: Did you have other challenges, Kenji?

Kenji: It was hard to do *housework all the time. 【ア】 I spent a lot of time on housework every day. 【イ】

Ai: 【ウ】 It is because my parents usually cook, clean and wash for me. 【エ】

Kenji: By living without my parents, I realized that my parents helped me very much in my life. But I did not *recognize that before going to the U.S.A.

Paul: I think that (6) living abroad 【 ① look / ② us / ③ gives / ④ at / ⑤ to / ⑥ chances 】 things in a different way. I learned something important that I did not know before.

Ai: What is that?

- Paul:* For example, I have learned the importance of *cleaning at a Japanese school. Students have time to clean their school after classes. *Because of the cleaning, I can spend my school life *comfortably. So, I think that I should do the same thing when I go back to the U.S.A.
- Ai:* Your idea is interesting because I have never thought that it was special. How were you influenced at the American school, Kenji?
- Kenji:* American students were very different from Japanese ones during lessons. They *actively answered teachers' questions and threw many of their own questions at the teachers. *As a result of studying with them, my learning became more active. Living in the U.S.A changed me a lot.
- Paul:* I think that you have grown up through living in a foreign country.
- Kenji:* That's right. Now I think that it is important to help my parents. I do housework for my family every day. I have learned not only a foreign language, but also important things in life.
- Ai:* I have dreamed about living in a foreign country, but I find that living abroad is not always fun from your stories. However, I would like to try it in the future. I want to have important experiences that lead me to grow up.

(* 印の付いている単語・語句には、本文のあとに【注】がある。)

Lisa, a high school student in Australia, visited Japan last year. She writes about her experience in Japan.

Last year, I visited Japan with my parents for the first time. We spent a week in Japan. We wanted to see different faces of Japan; both the *modern and traditional sides of Japan. Tokyo had many interesting places to see and visit, and so we decided to spend three days walking around some popular places in Tokyo.

On the fourth day, we took trains to enjoy the beautiful view of the *countryside. 【ア】 We changed trains and got off the train at a station. 【イ】 We ate some *local food and I bought some small things for my friends in Australia. 【ウ】 From the train station, we were going to take a bus to the *foot of a mountain. A kind young lady told us the way to the bus stop and we got on the bus. 【エ】 First we wanted to visit an old shrine at the foot of the mountain. When we looked around at the bus stop, a young man came to us and told us how to get there. When we went into the shrine, some people were washing their hands and mouth. Some of them showed us how to wash our hands and mouth.

We climbed up the mountain to see the *ruins of an old castle on the top. There were several *paths which led to the top of the mountain. An old man told us the shortest path to the top of the mountain, so we decided to take the No.1 path.

On the top of the mountain, a small group of women were drinking tea and having a snack. From the top, we could see a very high mountain *in the distance but the top of the mountain was *hidden by the clouds. Then one of the women told us some of the names of the mountains. I drew some pictures of the old castle there.

After enjoying the beautiful view from the top, we went down the No.3 path which also led to the foot of the mountain. We crossed some small bridges over the river and enjoyed the different face of the mountain. The path had two *waterfalls along it. (1) The first waterfall was 【 difficult / it / small / so / that / was 】 for us to find it. Then I saw a boy sitting on a bench along the path. (2)

He was a student at a local high school. He had a *garbage bag in his hand. So I asked, “What is inside of the bag?” He showed me some *plastic bags in the bag. He was one of the members of a volunteer activity to *clean up the mountain. On that day, he picked up plastic bags along the path with other members. He said that he got tired but that he was very *proud of (3) . He also said, “I picked up more plastic bags last year. I am glad that the mountain is (4) than before.” We decided to go down to the foot of the mountain with him. On the way to the foot of the mountain, I talked about a volunteer activity I did at one of the *World Natural Heritage Sites in Australia. He listened to me with a very *interested look. He told us about some World Natural Heritage Sites in Japan.

When we got to the foot of the mountain, he gave me his *e-mail address and told us to come back again as soon as we could. I promised when I get back to Australia. We thanked him again for all the things that he did for us and said goodbye to each other. We took a bus and trains back to Tokyo and got to our hotel before it got too late.

After Lisa came back to Australia, she sent an e-mail to the boy.

We spent a wonderful afternoon together. (6)All the nice things Japanese people did for us that day have made my visit to Japan more special. *Thanks to your volunteer activity and by talking with you, I have learned the importance of the *preservation of . Now, I am more interested in Japanese culture and *environmental problems.

Please have a look at the photo I have *attached to this e-mail. It was taken in front of the waterfall. Each time we see the photo, we remember our stay in Japan. I am looking forward to seeing you again. I will send an e-mail again.
